These include: higher health and safety standards; threats of violence; mental health issues; harassment and discrimination; and duty to accommodate. N. Alexander also discussed how Red River College is working to meet the needs of its aging workforce and employees with family obligations.

The Board was informed that a number of strategies have been implemented to promote employee wellness. The outcomes of these strategies are increased productivity, reduced absenteeism, engaged employees, increased retention and reduced workplace health and safety incidents.

He provided an overview of services offered to students. These include: Counseling and Disability Services; the Learning Assistance Centre; Employment Services; Accommodation Services; Interpreting Services; and Assessment Services. He added that Counseling Services has seen a significant increase in students presenting with mental health issues and learning disabilities. The Board was provided with information about the College's Aboriginal Student Support Centre and the Diversity and Immigrant Student Support Centre that provide a variety of programs and services to support student success.
