Introduction

This report summarizes the findings of the surveys of 2012/2013 Red River College (RRC) graduates from regular programs and continuing education programs.

The College conducts these surveys of graduates every year to understand employment outcomes and the attitudes and feelings of graduates about their education at RRC. The findings are used across the College to improve programs.

The College's academic aim is to help create successful careers for learners and a skilled workforce for the community by providing comprehensive, inclusive, and accessible learning opportunities through high quality, leading edge, applied education programs. To assess how well the College is doing in this endeavor, it is essential to seek out our graduates and ask what they are doing.

This report contains results from two surveys:

- The first is the Graduate Satisfaction and Employment survey that gathers information on employment status and program satisfaction from graduates of full-time certificate, diploma, and post diploma, and degree programs.
- The second is the School of Continuing Education (CE) Graduate survey that gathers information from graduates of CE certificate and diploma programs.

This report serves many purposes. It helps establish the College's accountability to the Council on Post-Secondary Education and the Province of Manitoba, as well as to graduates and students, and to all Manitobans. It also helps in the continuous improvement of our academic programming as results from the surveys are used for reviews throughout the College. Overall the knowledge provided by our graduates informs RRC's planning.

The report is also used by prospective students themselves, high school and college counselors, academic advisors, faculty, and many others who are involved in the career planning and decision-making process for current and prospective students.

The pages that follow include a number of tables and charts at a college-wide, school and program level providing employment related information and education satisfaction ratings. There is a wealth of information on the outcomes of our graduates.

The Graduate Satisfaction and Employment Report is a collective effort, receiving support and input from all RRC academic departments and the entire Research and Planning staff.

The primary objectives of the surveys are to:

- Ascertain the employment status of graduates, their quality of employment and whether this employment is related to their field of study;
- Examine the opinions and attitudes of graduates about the education received at Red River College; and
- Obtain information on salaries, types of positions, and locations of employment.

Comments about this Report can be directed to the Research and Planning Department, C509-2055 Notre Dame Avenue, Winnipeg, MB R3H 0J9, Canada, or 204.632.2038. The report can be viewed online at www.rrc.ca/researchplan under Publications.

Report Highlights

Red River College's 2013/2014 Satisfaction and Employment survey of 2012/2013 graduates shows that graduates continue to find jobs in Manitoba and express high levels of satisfaction with their education.

Of all full-time day program graduates who responded to the survey, 91 percent were employed or furthering their education.

Of those graduates who were in the workforce, seeking employment, 94 percent found jobs. Only 6 percent were looking for work. Moreover, of the responding employed graduates who reported an employer's address, 98 percent were in Manitoba. By far, most College graduates remain in Manitoba to contribute to the province's prosperity and to its social and cultural vitality.

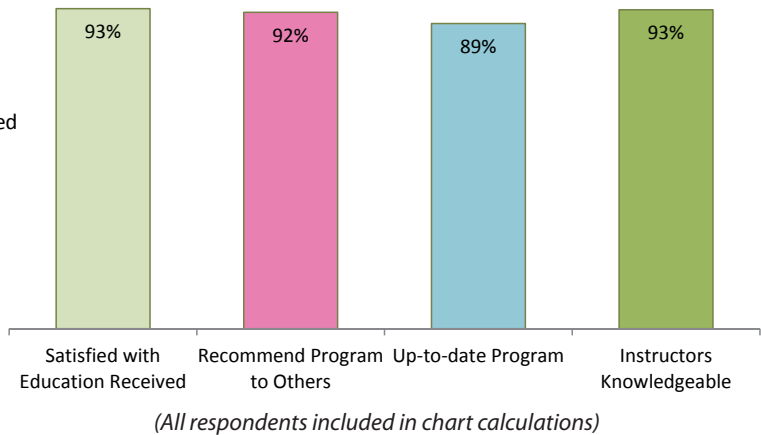

Eighty-three percent of employed/self-employed graduates reported that they were working in a field related to the education and training received. In addition, 88 percent of the employed/self-employed graduates reported that they were employed full-time.

Ninety-three percent of all respondents reported that they were very satisfied or satisfied with their education at Red River College and 92 percent said they would recommend their program to others.

Graduates also reported their annual salaries. There is variation in the level of achieved income by program with an average of $40,984, which was an decrease of 0.9 percent over that reported by 2011/2012 graduates.

Survey Process

Red River College surveys its graduates on an annual basis. The survey collects data related to the graduates' employment status, salary, occupation and skill use. Graduates are asked to indicate their level of satisfaction with the education received at Red River College.

The analyzed data from the completed and returned surveys are presented in this report for each program. Data on the Employment Status of graduates are presented for each Academic School.

Scope of the Survey

Graduates from advanced diploma, diploma and certificate programs, as well as from programs delivered in partnership with external agencies were sent surveys six months following the end of the academic year. A total of 1,102 students representing the graduating class of 2012/2013 participated in the survey. Graduates from Apprenticeship programs were surveyed but are not included in this report. Graduates from the Language Training Centre and Adult Learning Centre programs were not included in the survey. Four hundred and sixty-two graduates from the School of Continuing Education programs also participated in the survey.

Methodology

The survey fielding consisted of two phases. In the first phase a survey questionnaire and personalized letter were sent to each student who graduated between July 1, 2012 and June 30, 2013 (see Appendix A and B). A second survey and letter were sent to those who did not respond to the initial request. In order to maximize the response rates for individual programs, phase 2 involved a telephone survey of the non-responding graduates to phase 1.

Response Rates

All program graduates were surveyed and a percentage of this population responded. The results in this report are based on those respondents. The number of graduates responding to the survey is identified in this report for each program.

Table 1 and Table 2 summarize response and cooperation rates. Response rates are calculated on the total number of mailed surveys, while cooperation rates are calculated on the number of delivered surveys.

Centre for Teaching Excellence, Innovation & Research

This Centre, formerly the School of Learning Innovation, provides both educational programs and comprehensive teaching and learning support services. In addition to having the provincial mandate to prepare public school teachers in the areas of Industrial/Vocational and Business Education and to prepare College instructors through the Certificate in Adult Education (CAE), the Centre provides supports such as content expertise and research capacity through Library Services, faculty development through the CAE program and an annual series of workshops; curriculum design leadership and facilitation through the Program and Curriculum Development department; and, content production and program delivery systems through the Learning Technologies areas. The Centre also manages the Program Innovation Fund which is used to support the continual enhancement of academic programs by funding innovative projects which are not covered by operating budgets. This report covers the achievements of the Teacher Education department, the only area within the Centre that provides academic programming.

In 2012-13, of the programs surveyed, there were 43 certificates and 30 diplomas awarded.

Seventy-three graduates were surveyed with 50 responding for a 69% response rate.

Occupations (full or part-time training related employment)

The occupations listed on individual program pages and in the Occupation by Program list (Appendix E) were supplied by the employed/self-employed respondents at the time of surveying. Program-related occupations are not limited to these.

Response Rate

The response rate is calculated as follows:

$$\text{Response Rate} = \frac{\text{no. of surveys returned}}{\text{no. of surveys sent out}} \times 100$$

Salaries

The salaries illustrated on the individual program pages are based on monthly/hourly wage and hours worked per week. This information was provided by the employed/self-employed respondents at the time of surveying. Training-related salaries are not limited to these. Note: The calculation of the average College salary includes salaries of programs not illustrated in the report due to confidentiality, as well as any outlier salaries that have been excluded from the individual program calculations.
