

NETIQUETTE

For Remote and Online Learning

Be scholarly. Use appropriate language, grammar, and spelling. Provide thoughtful explanations, justify your opinions, and credit the ideas of others by citing or linking to scholarly resources.

Please avoid misinforming others when an answer is unknown. If you are guessing, clearly state that you don't have all the information.

Be professional. Represent yourself well. Be truthful and accurate. Write in a legible font, limit the use of emoticons, and check your spelling and grammar.

Please avoid using profanity and participating in hostile interactions.

Be respectful. Respect the privacy of others. Respect diversity and opinions that differ from your own. Communicate tactfully and base disagreements on scholarly ideas or research evidence.

Please avoid sharing another person's personal information.

Be polite. Address others by their name or appropriate title. Be mindful of your written tone. Interact online politely, just as would be expected in a face-to-face situation.

Please avoid using sarcasm, being rude, and writing in all capital letters (shouting).

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 International License.

This work was adapted from Arizona State University:

<https://teachonline.asu.edu/2016/04/teaching-good-netiquette/>

This resource is shared as part of the Manitoba Academic Integrity Network (MAIN)